QuickJumper

QuickJumper is the user friendly solution for your pagination requirements.

QuickJumper is a layout importer for Adobe® InDesign or QuarkXpress®

QuickJumper resides in your production software (in Adobe® InDesign® or QuarkXpress®).

Using QuickJumper production and editorial staff now have access to an electronic dummy of a publication which has been constructed in QuickLayout.

One of the great production time-wasters is drawing newspaper dummies and editorial rule offs. These processes are completely automated in QuickJumper.

QuickJumper also supports bleeds when used in conjunction with QuickLayout 3.1.

QuickJumper offers a range of options, enabling operators to choose to paginate an entire publication, single section or individual page.

QuickJumper creates whole papers from templates with advertisement booking shapes or editorial newsblocks in precise position.

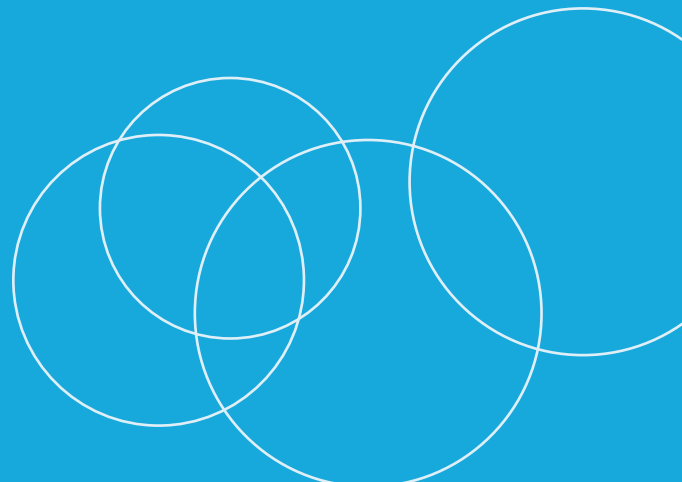

Your pagination operator works around these advertisement shapes, knowing them to be an accurate representation of the paper layout.

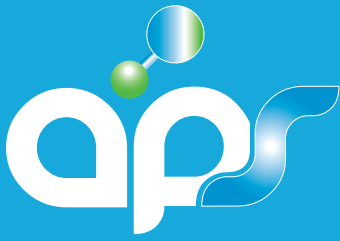

QuickJumper requires little setup time, minimal training and is able to be used with minutes of installation.

When the operator is ready, QuickJumper will replace advertisement shapes with the artwork or editorial copy and the page is complete.

Last minute changes, where an ad shape changes or copy won't fit, are now quickly and easily corrected.

QuickJumper is an absolute time and money saver and will save your business days of manual pagination.
